

Stefan Lutz

General Manager GBS DACH, IBM Global Business Services

Main Programme

Digital Transformation of Large Organizations – creating value by user centricity in the defense arena

Wednesday, 28th November 2018, 10:20 – 10:40h

Since March 2017, Stefan Lutz is a Member of the Management Board of IBM Germany responsible for the consulting division and leads the IBM Global Business Services (GBS) business in Germany, Austria and Switzerland (DACH). Prior to his current position, Stefan Lutz was General Manager of IBM's Global Business Services – Industrial Sector Europe division. In this role, Stefan Lutz was responsible for the Company's consulting, IT and business process services portfolio across the Automotive, Electronics, Aerospace & Defense, Chemicals & Petroleum and Discreet Manufacturing industries.

With 20 years' consulting experience including IBM and PricewaterhouseCoopers, he has led engagements with clients around the world as well as holding a number of executive management positions.

A resident of Munich, Germany, Stefan Lutz holds a degree in Business Administration from the University of Würzburg. He engaged in post-graduate studies at Stanford, IMD and Oxford SAID business schools