

Todd Oja

Branch Chief, Department Plans and Policy, U.S.
Cyber Command

Panel B3

Cyber Operations – a legal and technological challenge

Wednesday, 28th November 2018, 11:45 – 13:15 h

Mr. Oja retired from the U.S. Army as a Foreign Area Officer in 2011, having served 6 tours in Europe including in Belgium, Romania, England and Germany in a variety of attaché, liaison and staff positions. He transitioned to U.S. Cyber Command in 2012, holding staff and leadership positions within the intelligence and current operations directorates, and now serving within the plans and policy directorate as an Air Force civilian. Mr. Oja holds master's degrees from Johns Hopkins and Columbia, and a number of further cyber graduate certifications. He is conversant in German, and continues his work with French. Mr. Oja resides near Dulles, outside Washington D.C.