Maurits Speksnijder is managing director of Randstad Consultancy – a team of highly qualified specialists, realising significant improvements in the ‘return on labour’ for Randstad’s large accounts.

He is a trusted advisor on strategic labour issues and opportunities.

Unsurprisingly, Maurits is a welcome sparring partner at boardroom level for organisations as the Dutch Ministry of Defence, BMW Group, Scania, Accell Group, NXP Semiconductors, Randstad Groep Netherlands, and many more.

With a Master Degree in Strategy, Finance and Human Resources, and as certified executive data scientist, he can easily switch between a diversity of subjects. Next to his work for clients, he and his team are leading social innovations in making use of the latest HR-Tech, blockchain and data analytics.

With his strong combination of analytical and social skills he is able to bring people and solutions together in complex and dynamic (political) environments.
